

DIER CREDITORS URGED TO ACCEPT $500,000 OFFERED

Proposed Settlements Would Pay 25 Cents on Dollar—
Suits for More Planned.

In announcing a proposed settlement of $500,000 in claims against persons formerly connected with the bankrupt firm of E. D. Dier & Co., Saul S. Myers, attorney for the receiver, yesterday told creditors in a circular that the receiver "was proceeding" against members of the New York Stock Exchange, Consolidated Stock Exchange, Curb Market, and thirteen former employees and associates of Dier.

The proposed settlement is for $100,000 from Henry D. Hughes, $25,000 from Mrs. E. D. Dier, $25,000 from Lawrence H. Starr, $25,000 from Benjamin F. Shrimpton, and from Charles A. Stoneham $200,000, from Ross F. Robertson $100,000 and from an anonymous broker $10,000.

A petition asking authority for the receiver to accept these claims has been filed in the United States Court. The persons against whom the receiver will proceed in an effort to collect further assets are: Fred Andrews, Bernard A. Andrews, August Stroth, Adam Reickheim, Benjamin Nathan, Harry J. Lawrence Jr., William Roche, Carl M. Kneass, M. C. H. Clinch, Benjamin F. Shrimpton, "Jack" Russell, John H. Froelisher and Percy Thomas, all of whom were formerly connected with E. D. Dier & Co.

The lawyers for the receiver say that if the creditors desire to sue Stoneham and Robertson, in the belief they can obtain a larger sum than the $300,000 offered, they will undertake such suits.

However, acceptance of the compromise settlement is urged. The proposed settlement would give creditors about 25 cents on the dollar. None of the settlements proposed in any release Dier.

In the petition for approval of the settlement the attorneys say: "These settlements have all been based on written statements or testimony given by the persons who have agreed to pay the above moneys. Should it develop on further examination that any statement or testimony is untrue your petitioner reserves the right to bring such actions and proceedings as he deems proper."

Regarding Mrs. Dier's jewelry and realty, the petition says: "Your petitioner, realizing the extreme difficulty, if not the impossibility, of proving that Edith Read Dier had any knowledge of her husband's financial condition at the time of the receipt by her of the various assets and the fact that a foreclosure of one of the mortgages on her Atlantic City property might wipe out whatever equity there was in such property, consider it advisable to accept the sum of $32,500 in settlement of all claims against her."

As to Hughes, the attorneys find that his assets are about $125,000, consisting of books, pictures and jewelry. It is said that Hughes has pledged this property to raise the $100,000 he offers, but in his case, as in the case of Shrimpton, reservation is made providing that if it develops that he has hidden assets or have made incorrect representations the settlement may be cancelled.

MYSTERY SOLVED BY MESSAGE; GIRL ELOPED WITH VET

Setauket, L. I., Bride of Former Soldier to Get Father's Blessing.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance last Saturday of Charlotte Golden, seventeen, from her home in Setauket, L. I., was cleared to-day when a message was received by Isaac Golden of Depot Road, the girl's father and one of the community's leading business men, saying Charlotte and Elwood McVicker had been married at Greenwich, Conn.

McVicker, twenty-three, a World War veteran, had been attending an army school not far from Setauket and making his home at the Plant Hotel in Port Jefferson. Golden left home to-day to meet the newlyweds.

War Hero Dies of His Wounds After 48 Operations in 4 Years

Eighteen Bullets Had Been Removed From McCarty—Carried Two to Death.

CATAWISSA, Pa., June 28.—Herbert McCarty, twenty-eight years old, a veteran of the 79th Division, died to-day after a four-year fight for life with forty-eight operations for wounds suffered a few days before the Armistice, when his body was riddled by bullets from a machine gun of a German airplane. McCarty had been in hospitals almost continuously since he was wounded.

Twenty-four of his operations were major ones and twenty-four were classed by surgeons as minor. Eighteen machine gun bullets had been taken from his body and he carried two, grown into his jugular vein, to his death. In the operations fourteen ribs had been entirely removed, a portion of one shoulder blade and a collar bone taken out.

His case is said by specialists to be one of the most remarkable in American surgery. Until two months ago he had recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital for short periods.

McCarty had been cited for extreme bravery, his citation stating that he was dragging bodies of his comrades back from exposed positions when wounded. He won several foreign decorations and a distinguished service cross.

ministered, guarding the secret of her identity to the last. "Paris got me," the last words on her lips, are not believed by the police to tell the secret of her suicide. "Mrs. Kohn," as she called herself, although not resembling the photograph on a passport bearing that name, is believed to have important American connections in New York and Baltimore.

Miss Nanson, an American Women's Relief Committee worker, said "Mrs. Kohn" had approached her several times for money to cable to relatives in America, mentioning Baltimore, and that she always had concealed the address of these alleged relations.

"Mrs. Kohn told me," Miss Nanson said, "her husband died several years ago in America, and that her affairs were in the hands of his partner. She said she feared the latter had absconded."
